

TILLMAN CALLS FOR FACTS ON BANK GRAFT

Wants Senate to Delve
Into Political Funds and Uncover Ohio Doings.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—When the Senate convened to-day Senator Tillman introduced a resolution directing the Committee on Finance to inquire into alleged contributions to campaign committees, and ascertain what facts concerning them had not been disclosed by the Comptroller of the Currency.

The resolution dealt with the broad subject of bank contributions and by inference to specific cases in Chicago, Ill., and Cincinnati, O. It directed the committee to inquire whether legal proceedings should be had. Mr. Tillman asked for immediate consideration of the resolution, but upon objection it went over. The resolution follows:

Resolved, That the Committee on Finance be directed to inquire whether or not the national banks have made contributions in aid of political campaigns, and if so, to what extent, and why the facts have not been discovered by the Comptroller of the Currency; and whether or not such contributions have been embezzlements, abstractions or willful misapplication of the funds of the banks which call for restitution and original prosecutions.

"Said committee is also directed to inquire whether or not the national banks of Chicago have recently engaged in transactions beyond their lawful powers in connection with the recent failure of a bank in that city, and whether such failure involved illegality and crimes.

"Also to inquire whether the national banks in Ohio have been in the habit of paying large sums of money in secret and illicit manner to the county treasurers of Ohio as a compensation to said treasurers for making deposits of public moneys with such banks; and to report the facts to the Senate, and the opinion of the committee whether any legal proceedings should be instituted on account of the transactions disclosed; and whether the public interest requires any amendment of the existing national banking laws."

BURGLAR SAID HE WAS SECRET SERVICE MAN.

After posing successfully for ten years as a secret service agent of the Italian Government, Emanuel Drodici, was convicted to-day of burglary and sentenced by Judge Cowling in General Sessions to eight years in State Prison. On Nov. 12, Sunday, Drodici entered the jewelry store of Schmuck Bros. at No. 22 Broadway, in broad daylight and carried away silver and jewelry to the extent of $5,000.

There was no clue, and the detectives gave it up as a bad job, when Inspector McLaughlin, of the Detective Bureau, received a "rumor" which led him to send Detective Sergeants Duran and Kinsler to Boston, where they found Drodici in the hotel part of the swindler's hideout.

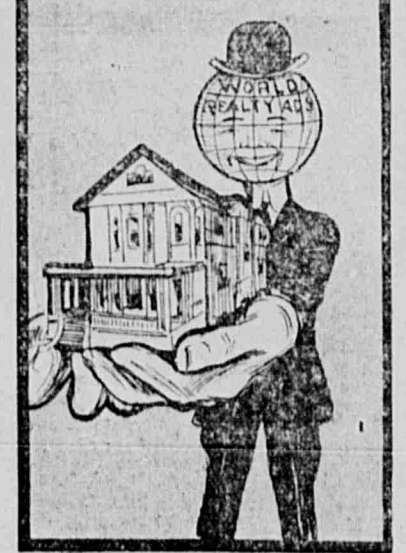

Representing what had been made way with, they found fifty skeleton keys, which they brought back with the prisoner.

ALL THE CITY'S COACHES ENGAGED FOR FUNERAL

(Special to The Evening World.) ELIZABETH N. J., April 16.—Rev. Bartholomew Zimanski, of the Lithuanian church of St. Peter and Paul, is mourning the loss of a devoted sister, who died in the rectory Saturday. In order not to show partiality, the priest engaged two undertakers who are members of his parish to conduct the funeral.

The funeral, on Thursday, will probably be the largest ever held in Elizabeth. Every coach in the city and nearby towns has been engaged. It will be impossible, as far as coaches are concerned, for the undertakers to have any other funeral on that day.

Passing Profits to People.

It is the "demand" and "supply" of things upon this earth that determine the merits or demerits of an investment. Winter drives down the cost of straw hats but increases the price of furs. Residents in rural districts would not pay for a load of sand. Both dirt and rock bring good prices, however, in New York city. The earth has not increased one iota in size round about Greater New York and still the population of this metropolis goes on increasing at an alarming rate. There are not enough building lots and homes to go round, and still the demand for them is growing every twenty-four hours. Steadily increasing real estate prices is the inevitable result.

Do you see the point? Sunday World Realty "Offers" will show you how to take advantage of it.

LADRONES KILL IN DARING RAID NEAR MANILA

Band Dashes Into Town,
Defeats Constabulary and Robs Arsenal.

MANILA, April 16.—A band of Ladrones made a bold raid on the headquarters of the constabulary at Malolos on the island of Luzon, to-day, killed three men and carried off a number of rifles.

This attack, made only twenty miles from Manila, was so sudden that the constabulary were quite unprepared, and a big force has been started on the trail of the raiders.

There were forty men in the band which entered Malolos early this morning. They proceeded directly to the heart of the town and made for the constabulary headquarters, which is directly opposite the residence of Gen. Sandoval.

A sentry who challenged them was shot dead, and the band rushed into the constabulary building, ran upstairs to the arsenal and were seizing the arms when a dozen guards on duty charged them.

"There was a vicious hand-to-hand fight in which the guards were beaten, and two of their number killed.

The raiders lost one man slain in the conflict and some were wounded. The Ladrones then gathered up a quantity of arms and succeeded in getting away with twenty rifles. They escaped as the alarm was given, and an upsurge in the town followed.

A force of police and constabulary went in pursuit of them.

RODGERS, JR., INDICTED WITH CHAUFFEUR.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 16.—The Westchester County Grand Jury for the April term was discharged to-day by Supreme Court Justice Beeger after it handed up a number of indictments including one against John C. Rodgers, Jr., son of a wealthy New York contractor, and John Johnson, a chauffeur, who are accused of having been responsible for the killing of Alvin Stein and his sister, Mrs. Betty Kuchler, two aged women, at New Rochelle on April 1 last.

The indictment says that "On Sunday, the first day of April, 1906, at New Rochelle, the defendant, John C. Rodgers, Jr., being present, and the owner, and the defendant, Johnson, driver of an automobile running at a high rate of speed, did carelessly and through culpable negligence run down and injure Alvin Stein and Betty Kuchler from the effects of which injuries they died."

The indictment also charges that Rodgers, Jr., being present, and the owner, and the defendant, Johnson, driver of an automobile running at a high rate of speed, did carelessly and through culpable negligence run down and injure Alvin Stein and Betty Kuchler from the effects of which injuries they died."

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S COUSINS IN COURT

Auto Driver Held for Speeding by Magistrate Upon Their Complaint.

Alfred A. Wood, the chauffeur whose car was driven against horses ridden by Mrs. Thomas Lulu Onatvia, cousin of Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, and her sister, Miss Agnes Cooley, was to-day held in $500 for bail on a charge of violating the speed law by Magistrate William A. Westchester Court. Both women, haughtily gowned and quite recovered from the experience that led them to sue for the death of their husband, appeared to testify against him. Incidentally they received some unfavorable comments from the gallant Magistrate.

Wood, who is employed by Dr. Robert Myles, of No. 49 West Forty-eighth street, was stopped at Feham Parkway and the white rains road yesterday afternoon by Mounted Policemen Stewart and Johnson. They saw two women mounted on galloping horses keeping well in the cloud of dust sent out by Wood's car. The women proved to be Mrs. Onatvia and Miss Cooley. They said that Wood had caused their horses to jump the ditch and the fence on the parkway.

In court to-day Wood said: "I wasn't speeding. I didn't see these women. They must have mistaken my machine for some other. As for making twenty-five miles an hour, as I am charged, why, any machinist will tell you I haven't got the power in my car to turn that off."

"Why," asked the Magistrate, "did you think these beautiful women were coming from the moon? If you didn't notice them I must say I don't admire your taste."

The two women blushed as the Magistrate gazed at them. Then Mrs. Onatvia exclaimed: "He must have seen us. His machine brushed against my sister's horse and made him jump over a fence. If the horse hadn't been a good jumper she would have been badly hurt."

Both women are daughters of the late James Calvin Cooley and are sisters of United States Civil-Service Commissioner Alford W. Cooley. Mrs. Onatvia was married in 1903, and her husband, from whom she obtained a divorce three years ago, was famous as the successor of Berry Wall.

MOTHER SAW BOY CRUSHED TO DEATH

Child Skipping a Rope Fell
Directly in Front of Heavy Truck.

In sight of his fainting mother William Durkin, five years old, of No. 222 Tillary street, Brooklyn, was crushed to death under a truck wheel to-day. When the ambulance surgeon arrived it was the unconscious woman who needed his assistance and not the child who was beyond human help.

The little boy was skipping a rope with several playmates at the corner of Tillary street and Hudson avenue, in front of his mother's home. The rope-swingers were chanting the rope-song of "Old Man Daze," who went crazy, up in alley, down an alley, one, two, three." The lively stopping back and forth across the swinging rope was too swift a pace for the child. The heel of his shoe caught in the rope and as the children turning it tugged lustily Willie was tripped up and spilled headlong in front of a heavily-laden truck that was rumbling along Tillary street.

The horse's hoofs had pounded the little human atom to the pavement and a front wheel had passed over the body before the driver could stop the wagon and team. The wheel had instantly crushed out the little life. Mrs. Durkin had come to the doorway of the house in which she lived and started to rush to the spot where the quiet little body lay when Cornelius Credon, a neighbor, picked it up. The mother saw that the child was dead and fell in a faint.

Ambulance Surgeon Smith, who came from the Brooklyn Hospital, pronounced the child dead and turned his attention to restoring the mother. The driver of the truck, William Rentsch, of No. 157 Bridge street, had made no attempt to escape after stopping his wagon. He was arrested by Policemen Hogan, of the Adams Street Station. Rentsch said the child ran in front of his team before he had time to make a move.

SOMETHING HERE FOR YOU

Whether you're a man or woman, girl or boy, hustling housekeeper or lady of leisure—whoever you are or whatever your occupation—there's something in the list below that you want. It's one of our famous "Tuesday lists" of and it covers pretty nearly every section of the house and every line of goods we carry. Best of all, every price here is a "Tuesday price," and a Tuesday price is one that is lower than any that has ever been put on the same goods on any other day. Even in our biggest special sales an item, however low its price, selected for mention on Tuesday gets its price cut still lower.

Staple goods—heavily cut prices—and the exact truth as to qualities, quantities and former prices. Right reserved in all cases to limit purchases. Telephone orders filled only as long as specified lots last. No promises.
